

Brennan Hilleary

Brennan is an inspirational speaker, entrepreneur, transformational life coach, chair member & operations director of The Love No Ego Foundation, located in Charlottesville, Virginia, and the Owner / Operator of Build Your Power LLC.

Brennan's mission is to help us realize that our value as humans doesn't just come from what we do, but also from who we are & why we do it.

Brennan's Build Your Power philosophy serves as the foundation for empowering others to be the creator of their own identity, to help others refuse to allow outside pressures to influence them to be something they are not, and to provide the framework for others to focus on BECOMING the person they want to become rather than DOING things for external achievement.

Brennan's message results in consistent increases in self worth, elevated fulfillment & productivity, more personal & professional balance, and ultimately enables participants to thrive more in every area of their lives; whether it be professional or personal.

Brennan has delivered powerful, engaging, and relevant presentations, mentored, coached, consulted, and conducted workshops for individuals, teams, and organizations.

His approach improves their overall sustainability, promotes self and team development, and causes purposeful commitment to their own mental & spiritual resiliency!
